Red-tiled roofs, stone walls and cobbled streets are the hallmarks of this medieval city by the Adriatic Sea. Sit and enjoy lunch by the water, or absorb the local culture by taking in a folkloric performance.
santorini

There’s an iconic image of Santorini — blue-domed, gleaming-white buildings that seem to hang off cliffsides perched above the caldera. Once this image becomes a reality, it will take your breath away. Stroll the delightful lanes of Oia and see the white-washed beauty of Fira.

This Greek island has long been a hot spot, and its allure still remains today. Wander its maze of lanes and Cycladic buildings before setting eyes on the famous windmills. Ancient Delos is a short cruise ride away while the famed beaches are always a draw.

naples

Often known as the gateway to Mt. Vesuvius and the city of Pompeii, Naples has an appeal of its own. It’s also the birthplace of pizza, make sure to try a slice — or two — before taking a trip to the astonishing Amalfi Coast or the lovely island of Capri.
Perhaps one of the most recognizable masterpieces created by Antoni Gaudí is Casa Batlló, a museum in Barcelona with Gaudí’s colorful signature style on both the interior and exterior.

A stunning village on the Amalfi Coast, Positano boasts elegant boutiques, seaside cafés and sweeping views. For fantastic photo opportunities, take to a restaurant balcony to snap a shot of pastel houses sitting on the cliffs.

Note: Amenities represent typical arrangements and may vary by ship. Certain stateroom categories may vary in size and configuration by ship. State room views are considered unobstructed unless noted otherwise. Some categories have portholes versus picture windows. Some staterooms are partially to fully obstructed, as shown on deck plans. Obstructions do not include certain nautical items like handrails, dividers or ship hardware. For balcony state rooms, the view is determined from the perspective of the balcony railing. Balconies may have either solid steel or glass railings. Upper berth and bed ladder capacities are 250 lbs. State rooms that can accommodate rollaways have two lower berths and one upper berth, and the staterooms can accommodate a fourth berth as a rollaway bed upon request at time of reservation. There are a limited number of rollaway beds per ship, per voyage. Use of rollaway beds restricts cabin space.
